

THE GUEST WAS RAVING MAD.

AND HE MADE A BIG STIR AT THE BELLEVUE HOUSE.

His Stricks Disturbed the Other Guests in Their Early Morning Dreams—The Hotel Register Bore Evidence to His Plentifulness of Names, but He Found a New One When Taken to the Hospital.

The guests in the Bellevue House, at Nineteenth street and Fourth avenue, were rudely aroused from slumber at 3.30 o'clock this morning by the piercing shrieks of a maniac. He was struggling in the hotel office in the arms of the night clerk and a porter, but his screams could be heard throughout the house. The men had all they could do to hold him. He wanted to get upstairs, and if he had succeeded there is no knowing what he might not have done.

Some of the guests and the hotel employees ran into the street and found Patrolman Donovan, of the West Thirtieth street station-house. He returned to the hotel, and with his assistance the porter and clerk finally quieted the maniac. An ambulance was sent for, and he was removed to Bellevue Hospital.

Dr. Hubner, who attended him, says his mind is completely shattered. His name could not be definitely ascertained. He went to the Bellevue House for the first time last Thursday evening. Then he registered as Theodore Handrich.

He is a fine-looking German, about forty-one years old. He was quiet and well dressed, and although it was noticed that he had been drinking he was given a room and no trouble was expected. He went away early next morning, but returned again the same evening. He was much the worse for liquor then and registered under a different name. He went to bed at 10 o'clock, however.

In conversation next day he told some of the people about the hotel that he was a professor of music. It was noticed then that his actions were strange, and his manner was peculiar. He went away the afternoon and did not return until last evening. He then paid for a room and signed his name on the book as Charles Schneider. He went out about 8 o'clock and did not return until 3 A. M. today.

The clerk saw at a glance that he had been drinking too much and advised him to go to his room at once. He refused to do so and began to talk in a belligerent way. He picked up several articles from the clerk's desk as if he was going to smash things with them, but the clerk managed to get them away from him. Then he began to shriek and run up and down the hallway.

Without waiting to get his key, he finally attempted to dash upstairs, yelling at the top of his voice, when the clerk interfered, and the struggle ensued.

At the hospital the man gave his name as Charles Schneider, and said he was an organist. He gave his residence as 227 E. 10th street, New York, but that is a vacant lot, and no person of that name is known in the vicinity.

Nothing of value was found in his clothing. He is not married he says.

GOING FOR THE SUGAR TRUST.

Suit Began to Annul the Havemeyer & Elder Refinery Company's Charter.

The "Old Roman" recently formulated the doctrine that the wicked combinations known as trusts can be controlled by existing laws and, acting on this suggestion, a body-blow was dealt at that particularly flagrant abuse, the Sugar Trust, yesterday.

Leave was obtained from Supreme Court Justice Morgan J. O'Brien for the Attorney-General to commence an action to annul the charter of the Havemeyer & Elder Sugar Refining Company.

Gen. Roger A. Pryor, Tammany Hall's anti-trust champion, represents Attorney-General Tabor and in his petition alleges that the acts and omissions of the offending corporation amount to a surrender of its rights and franchises.

The act particularly complained of is the entering into a combination with others to arbitrarily control the price of sugar, by the action of which combination or trust several sugar refiners have been closed and many workmen thrown out of work and reduced to want.

This combination is alleged to be a criminal conspiracy and oppressive to the people and detrimental to the welfare of the State and the United States.

John E. Parsons, who is the legal representative of the Sugar Trust, said this morning to an Evening World reporter: "If this action is brought to introduce evidence regarding the recent closing of the De Castro & Donner refineries, I can say that the custom is to run these works only during the summer months, and the workmen know that they are only to have employment for a certain length of time.

"As to the legality of the combination," continued Mr. Parsons, "the corporation has as much right to acquire an interest in Mr. Vanderbilt as he has to acquire an interest in the West Shore Railroad, and no one denies him that right.

Gen. Pryor had nothing to say further than that he thought there existed good cause for the annulment of the charter of the Havemeyer & Elder Company in the evidence of the combination.

BROOKLYN NEWS.

The Second Registry Day Promises to Be a Big One.

This is the second day of registration in Brooklyn. The places of registration were far from crowded this morning, but the number of persons who registered is estimated as high as from 20,000 to 25,000.

The total day's registration is expected to reach up into the fifty thousand figure. Only one day more remains for registration.

Brooklyn News in Brief.

Mrs. Mary Kenny, who lives on Lauger street, was found early this morning unconscious on Union street and removed to the College Hospital.

Charles Jackson, recently arrested for robbing a boarding-house in Brooklyn, was identified today as the man who a short time ago robbed the boarding-house 9 Washington place, New York.

Edward Connell, of 11 Alamo street; Louis Newman, of 65 5th street; and J. Eldred, of 34 Verano street, today reported having had their houses robbed during the night of yesterday at $65, $112 and $107 respectively.

Robbed a Poor Woman.

Dannah Wagner was robbed by a Washington street yesterday afternoon, on the way to her landlord's office with her rent money, $8.50, in her hand, when a bold thief knocked it out of her hand and ran off with it. Patrick Scrofield was captured by Officer Jack on the same street, and held on Mrs. Wagner's charge by Judge Patterson this morning.

Collins Fenced a Point.

During a dispute over the political situation, Daniel Collins, of 10 Murray street, stabbed one of his neighbors, of 5 Carlisle street, with a penknife. The injured man was taken to New York Hospital, and in the night in a precarious condition. Collins was held in a precarious condition. Collins was held in a precarious condition.

Downed Kicked for a Lodging.

"No drunken lodgers in this place," said Lodge-Inspector Alexander Alexander, of 3 Catharine street, to James Downes last night. Downes then kicked the lodge-keeper and was taken to the Tombs Police Court this morning.

FERNANDINA NEEDS AID.

All the Fever Funds are Growing in a Most Gratifying Way.

Fernandina is now the object of well-directed aid in the way of money and supplies from yellow-fever relief funds. There have been nearly a thousand cases of fever there, nearly all the sick need assistance and the benevolent associations for aid and support.

The World down has received an addition of $65.25, and the funds for telegraphers and newspaper men are also growing gratifyingly.

George Francis Train's lecture in Clarendon Hall Wednesday evening was a benefit of the relief fund will be upon his personal reminiscences of yellow fever.

JERSEY CITY NEWS.

A Fireman Seriously Hurt While Preventing a Burglary.

John Brown, Hans Fredericksen and Renold Braden, Swedes, members of the crew of the schooner Henry P. Havens, lying at the foot of Essex street, Jersey City, at 6 o'clock this morning tried to break into a saloon near the dock.

Thomas Fineran, Edward Everson and John Ward interfered. Brown, the most violent of the Swedes, drew a dirk and savagely attacked Fineran, while the others ran. Fineran ran down, bleeding from a dozen fearful wounds. His companions called Policeman Hopkins, who arrested the Swedes.

Fineran was taken in an ambulance to the City Hospital, where his wounds were pronounced serious and probably fatal.

Fineran boarded at 185 Washington street, and was fireman on the tug William Cox.

Jersey City Justice.

The trial of Patrick Coffey for the murder of his partner, Agnes Smith, was commenced before Judge Knapp in the Hudson County Court today.

"Pomeroy" and "Squire," two of the notorious Featherstone family, were held for trial by Justice Wood this morning for beating Grocer Lowen, of 1010 West 10th street, to death when he ordered them from his place.

Wagner's Low Carb Remedy—Old-fashioned, simple compounds, used in the days of our hardy forefathers, are "old times" but "old reliable." They comprise a "Sarsaparilla," "Hops and Bushy Remedies," "Ough and Consumption Remedy," "Hair Tonic," "Kaiser," for external and internal use, "Flaxseed," "Rose Cream," for Claret, and "Liver Pills." They are put up by H. H. Wagner & Co., Proprietors of Wagner's Low Carb Remedy, and promise to equal the standard value of those great preparations. All druggists keep them.
